CHINESE GAMBLERS JOE STECHER, 'CHAMP,' DISMISSED IN MAY MEET LOCAL POLICE COURT WRESTLER

The case of the city vs. Ah Hunz, Quant Lee, Lee Ong, S. Komo, Y. Sacka, Quong Lee and Charley Jim, which occupied several hours yesterday in the municipal court, was concluded this morning by the dismissal of the defendants. Attorney D. L. Stine acted as counsel for the defendants and Assistant City Attorney John C. Littlefield conducted the prosecution. The charge against the Chinese and Japanese was vagrancy, described as visiting a house for the purpose of gambling.

Witnesses for the city were Sergeant T. H. Blackburn, and Patrolmen Jensen, Davis and Moore. They told of entering a Chinese place of business at 2658 Lincoln avenue on the night of February 26 and of noticing that the proprietor seemed to be acting as a lookout for gamblers. Passing quickly to the rear of the store office they came up against a tightly barred door and waited until this was opened from the inside. In the room they entered were the seven alleged gamblers, who were immediately placed under arrest. The remainder of the testimony was a description of the room, which held, the officers state, paraphernalia for gambling.

The relevant statements of the defendants were in brief, a denial of the charge against them and were of a nature that offset the claim of the prosecution that the place in which they were arrested was a gambling house.

"The Prince of Graustark" will be shown tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 6 p. m. Athletics in the evening.

BOYS TO GREET THEIR COMRADES ON ARRIVAL

"Troops B and K, attention!" So said Captain J. Ray Ward and other military officers today in a call for all members of the two cavalry units of Utah's contingent in the regular reserve army to assemble at the Bamberger depot tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock to go to Salt Lake in a body and take part, in behalf of Ogden City, in the great welcome home that is to be accorded the Second squadron of Utah troops, arriving tomorrow from the Mexican border.

The homecoming squadron is commanded by Major W. B. Wallace, who lectured in Ogden last year. Adjutant General Williams will direct the welcome celebration, which will include a parade a reception by Governor Simon Bamberger and other patriotic demonstrations.

Captain Ward of B troop said today, in reply to an inquiry, that no news had been received from Washington relative to the probable use of Utah troops in national defense. He said, however, he expected a message at any time, also that muster-roll of both troops B and K still is open and each troop would be pleased to welcome ten more volunteers.

While in Salt Lake tomorrow Captain Ward will expedite the delivery of equipment for troop B.
